Schwieters Companies Opens New Design Studio

Joel Schwieters started Schwieters Companies, Inc. in 1982 as a one-person finish carpentry company with an eye for quality and customer satisfaction.

Fast-forward 25 years: Schwieters Companies, now located in Hugo, MN, is a complex that comprises four interrelated divisions: finish carpentry, millwork, prefinish and cabinetry, each with their separate, but connected workshops. Convenient one-call delivery and install simplifies the process for their clients and keeps them on schedule. Their experienced and professional team, along with state-of-the-art millwork and prefinish equipment allow for a quality experience from start to finish.

The new kid on the block is Schwieters Companies' spacious, comfortable design studio staffed by in-house designer Nicki Eckel, who offers professional advice to clients for interior selections. At 3,000 square feet, the design studio provides the client with room to roam, and allowing them to get up close and personal with a variety of interior options in an integrated context. Schwieters works with a variety of clientele from custom home builders, remodelers, national home builders and commercial construction companies.

Eckel and colleague Tracey Flack have helped to position Schwieters in the marketplace as a one-stop shop experience for the client whether he or she is an architect, builder, remodeler or interior designer. Given the cross-section and variety of options, a client can see which flooring is best with each style of cabinets and millwork.

Schwieters carries five cabinet lines and numerous countertop options are available, including laminates, solid surfaces, quartz, granite, marble and limestone, all in an impressive range of colors.

Schwieters also displays numerous doors selections, mantels and fireplace surrounds in a wide range of species, style and finishes. Stair systems, crown moldings, chair rails, cabinet hardware and door hardware are all for the choosing.

The design studio's selection of millwork is as impressive as it is helpful. On view are samples of casing and baseboard that can be mixed and matched all in a variety of woods, style and a range of 100 different colors with a UV-finish on four sides. A client can bring a floor sample from one end of the design studio and see it with millwork, cabinets and countertops. And conveniently, selections are crafted and finished next door in their millwork and prefinish shops.

After touring Schwieters Companies in person, you will be convinced that the time-consuming process of interior finishes will be made simple by this new self-managed wave of the future that will save days off your schedule. ■
